About The Institute of BioAcoustic Biology and Sound Health

Defined by the assertion that, BioAcoustically Speaking, the body can diagnose and prescribe for itself, Human BioAcoustic Vocal Profiling investigations have developed the foundation to substantiate that the body is a predictable mathematical matrix that can be used to extrapolate data concerning individual human health and wellness. Sound Health has monitored, networked, targeted, and mapped, the mathematical understanding of the creation of the universe and has applied that knowledge to embrace the ideology that the human voice contains the frequency biomarkers that attempt to mathematically define human existence and the optimal creation, maintenance, and expansion of physical, emotional, mental and spiritual well-being.

Sound Health will pave the future when there is an influx of wellness providers who are forward thinkers and eager to incorporate BioAcoustics into their functional medicine practices. As BioAcoustic technology becomes more distinguished and recognized in the field of traditional medicine, we will be creating a holistic future. The more organizations involved in traditional medicine who adapt BioAcoustic methods, the closer we all are to reaching the goal of enhancing and adding to the future of medicine.

Vocal Profiling is not musical. Vocal Profiling is not Medicine. BioAcoustic Vocal Profiling is Mathical!

Accreditation

The institute of BioAcoustic Biology and Sound Health – and its courses – has been accredited by the American Association of Natural Wellness Practitioners since 2021.

The Sound Health Portal

The Institute of BioAcoustic Biology offers innovative vocal assessment through the public online Sound Health Portal. Our Portal consists of unique databases with BioMarker bundles that can achieve remote assessments based on specific conditions found through the Vocal Print obtained from a client via the website. Through the Portal, multiple assessments can be simultaneously achieved.

Economically, the Portal can reduce extensive and unnecessary redundant testing that is often associated with conventional methodologies. The Sound Health Portal will assist the practice of SELF-HEALTH to become more sustainable and more convenient for those when cost is an obstacle.

The Portal can diversify the delivery formats for education and training to improve access and empower clinicians to practice more effectively because of its versatile mobility. The Portal is available to the public and professionals on a subscription basis. It also contains professional tutorials and support courses, and there are nearly 300 wellness templates available, and more are uploaded each week to remain current with emerging health concerns. This innovative technology is accessible from most any computer with access to the internet and contains the Sound Health Software. Clients can submit vocal prints from across the globe if they have appropriate equipment.

The Portal can assist your foundation by creating a workforce of practitioners to envision BioAcoustics as a transitional science using frequencies to reverse the epidemic of complex health concerns.

Our Goal

The ambition of Sound Health is to share with wellness providers the information and data that are the means to combine conventional and alternative modalities of medicine, the esoteric and the scientific, by human voice or machine. We can all work together toward similar goals such as generating research and data, enhancing clinical expertise, and amalgamating emerging trends that emanate in the field of transitional medicine.

Meet our Founder and the Pioneer of Human BioAcoustic Biology

Sharry Edwards, MEd, is well on her way to proving that at our core we are very sophisticated math-based robots. She states that we can be “managed” through our individual frequencybased signatures.

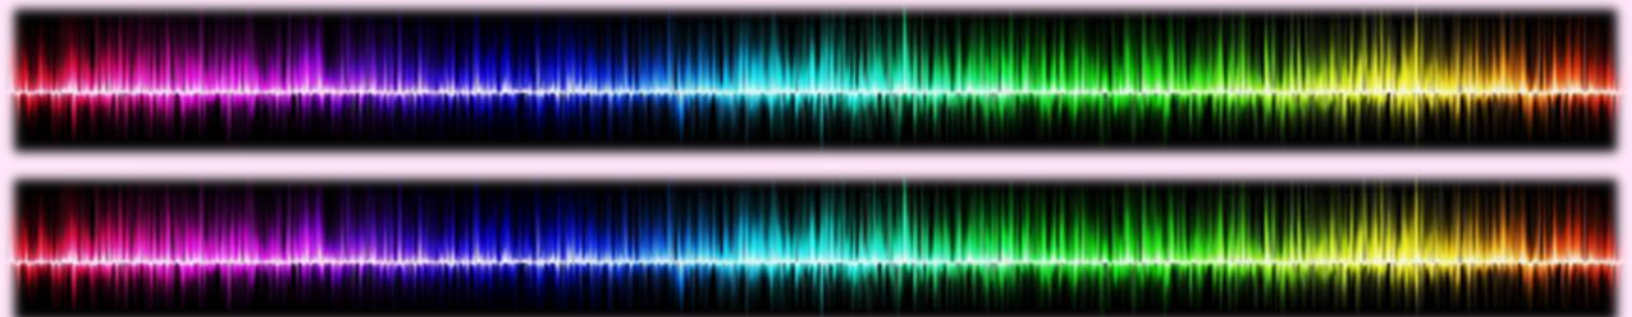

She asks that we imagine a future in which we can be individual identified and maintained through the use of frequency-based biomarkers that keep us healthy and emotionally balanced. Her work at the Institute of BioAcoustic Biology has shown that we can each have dominion over those frequencies by individual mind management or a simple remote control that is completely programmable. Using the unique techniques of Vocal Profiling and evaluation, emotional as well as physiological issues can be revealed and addressed.

Her work with the human voice reveals an important BioAcoustic theorem: that people who share similar traumas, stresses, diseases, toxicities...share similar, if not identical, vocal anomalies. She brings together ancient knowledge with modern ideas of harmonics and frequency relationship theories to show that math can be used as a form of predictive, diagnostic, and curative foundation for wellness. Through entrainment of the frequency grids of the brain, the body can be programmed to support its own optimal form and function.

String theory proposes that infinitesimally small strings create our bodily structures but doesn't answer the question of how this transformation occurs. The brain communicates using the language of frequency and can reveal individual DNA/RNA templates that have the potential to promote and extend life. Sharry's work provides many of these answers as to how these theories can be put to use to bring the Truth to the surface about who we are, how we got here and where we are going in terms of our intention and health.

Is frequency our new medicine or an ancient mystery revealed? There have only been a few modern keepers of the Holy Grail mysteries. Sharry Edwards has been identified as one of the extraordinary beings to walk the earth to bring forth the secrets kept from mankind. Her work has helped identify the secret codes of life that add meaning and new dimensions to our existence. She will likely be best known for her ability to bridge the gap between the ancient, the esoteric and the scientific realms of human evolution.

Changes in policies, procedures, and requirements

The Institute of BioAcoustic Biology and Sound Health reserves the right to modify or revise the admission requirements of any program within the institute and course completion requirements, examinations, courses, tuition, fees and other academic policies, procedures, and requirements. Generally, program modifications and revisions will not apply to current students so long as they actively participate in current requirements. However, in the event that it is necessary to make program changes for current students, every effort will be made to give notice. It is also the responsibility of students to keep themselves informed of the content of all notices concerning such changes.

Is this course right for you?

During the early '90s, Sound Health approached the National Institute of Health (NHI) and was advised that no category existed that satisfied Sound Health's specific accomplishments. NIH advised that the collection and classification of data should use a case study approach. Since that time, the additional categories of Functional and Energy Medicine, incorporated by NHI, would apply.

In 2004, data collection culminated in the discovery that Persons with similar wellness issues have similar, if not identical, vocal anomalies. To provide predictability and safety, the concepts of Math as Medicine often act conjointly to quantify, define, and model medical practice. Studies conducted by The Institute of Sound Health and BioAcoustic Biology have consistently demonstrated that math can be much more than a measurement tool.

This course provides the opportunity to learn how to do just that.

This course is right for you if any of the following apply:

You wish to make a difference in their life and the lives of those around them

You are prepared to take their health into their own hands

You are a current holistic healer who wishes to expand their knowledge and practice

You are a visionary thinker

You're interested in renewing ancient methods of health

You wish to promote the tenets of SELF-HEALTH

You are a current BioAcoustic Practitioner wishing to train others for your center

You want to provide for those you love, and your community, in our world of health chaos

Designed to help create BioAcoustic community groups to help support local SELF-HEALTH needs!

In this course, you will learn:

- How to properly prepare your computer for analysis
- Properly securing a Vocal Sample
- The process of evaluating a vocal sample for imbalances
- The steps to determine the BioAcoustic root cause of imbalances within the body
- Using BioBundles as BioMarkers
- Using frequency sets
- Performing tone trials
- Reading, understanding, and using our many online databases
- Client data comparisons and storage
- Writing client reports

Included in Tuition fees:

- Instruction with the Pioneer herself
- 1 programmable ToneBox
- Professional Muscles software (with frequencies)
- Professional Nutrition software (with frequencies)
- 1 set of headphones
- 1 microphone
- USB cable for ToneBox
- Lab books
- Workbooks
- Nutrition Consultant book
- Technicians will receive nanoVoice Software

(Additional materials for groups can be purchased separately. Please view pricing sheet on the following page for more information.)
