Recording Date: 07/17/2025

Lacks personal foundation. Just repeating ideas of others out loud who won't speak because they realize how narcissistic it would sound.

Most energy is in managing physical aspects of others.

Not doing this for personal reasons but because wants approval of others. Personal energy scattered and sketchy.

Pent up anger here that needs expression.

Has high energy in "Self Ego Expressed" meaning he likes to control what others think of him.

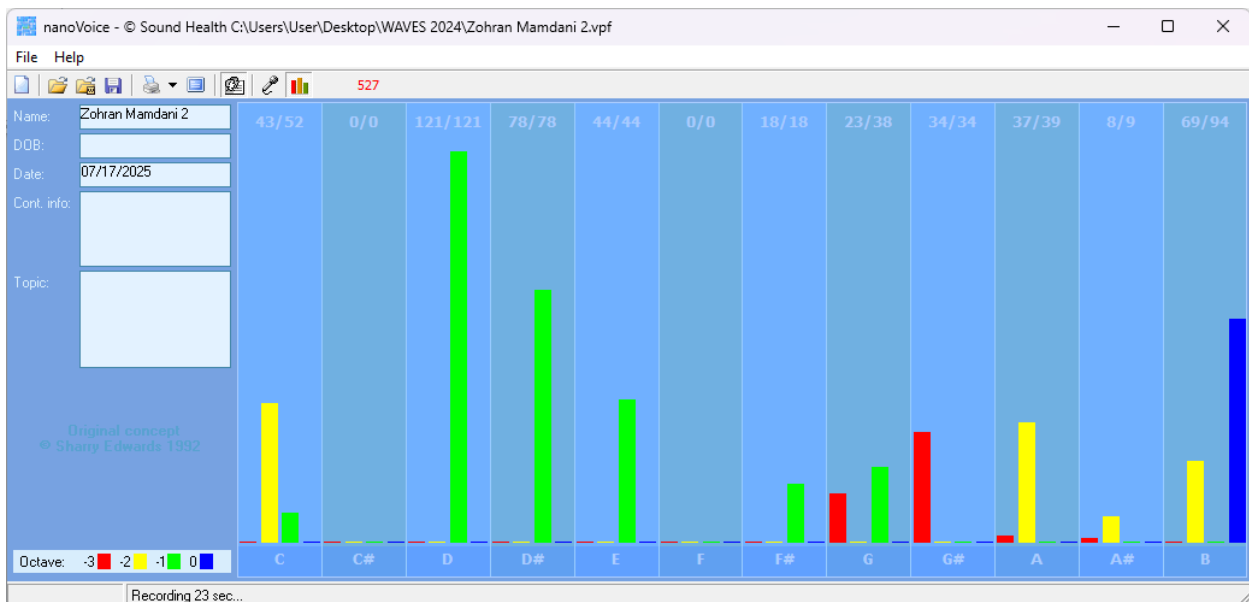

Doesn't really pay attention to telling the truth or not.

Downfall - he will try to create something physical before all of the pieces are in order.

I predict if elected, he will be impeached. Foundation and mostly the notes of F and F# not are weak - deals with masculine energy, money and balance between perception and action.

Thinks he won't be challenged but his ideas are tenable to him because he takes his actions by using the opinions of others. Find a negative truth about him and he will fold.

Missing Notes

You have no hits for the note(s) of: C#, F. Either you did not take enough samples (100-500 is usually best) or your subject matter did not include thoughts or topics that would involve this/these note(s). See the Note Correlate Chart that appears on the Cover Page for more explanation.

Points of Importance, Attention and Consequence

You challenge the opinions of others with good reason. You have a high degree of intuition when it comes to listening to what people are not saying. You have high ideals and expect the same of others.

Your highest note is associated with the expression of Self Approval and Self-Worth. Issues of digestion, enzyme and energy production reside with this note. Your highest note is associated with seekers of internal Truth. The balance between self-expression and self-worth resides with this note. Your highest note is associated with service to humanity and human spirit. Your feelings and desire to help others resides with this note.

When in doubt, have the courage to go to the source and ask for clarification. Ideas come to you in very odd moments when you are distracted by a required task. Structure is not required for you to be comfortable.

Points of Communication, Complications and Complaints

You tend to live and let live but also demand the same from others.

You tend to teach by your actions. You sometimes help others to the detriment of yourself. Your emotions run strong and can influence your health. You understand that trust should be earned but often expect trust without reservation.

You do what you do for the benefit of all concerned, even if it stresses you personally. You can easily be distracted from carrying out your plans by a more exciting prospect. You know how you want things to look but sometimes don't have the energy to make it so.
